

Egbertians marched into the Quarter Finals with a hard fought 3-1 win over higher league opposition.

Only a few minutes in and Ashley Burnett robbed Aloysian's defence on the left hand side, fed Ad McKinnon who fired home into the far corner when surrounded by three defenders.

Midway through the half and it was 2-0, a Dave Burnage cross headed home by in form Ryan Murray.

It stayed that way until half time although the Egbertians played some quality football, with just the goal at the end of the build up play missing.

The second half was a different story playing into a strong head wind.

Aloysians were having by far the more possession, although it was the home team who made it 3-0, Joe Deadman flicking home a near post corner.

Still at 3-0 we never managed to settle, and with ten minutes left, Aloysians netted their consolation goal.

Still they pressed, and it was only due to a couple of very good saves by Matt Paxton that we kept the scoreline at 3-1.

Overall it's great to be through to the quarters, and we look forward to the cup draw.
